About our speaker...

Sarah Patterson, gymnastics head coach and associate athletic director for the University of Alabama, exemplifies the true meaning of the word "champion". Recently selected to the Alabama Sports Hall of Fame, Patterson, in her 24 years as head coach of the Alabama gymnastics team, has guided the Crimson Tide to four NCAA Championships, four Southeastern Conference Championships and eighteen NCAA Regional titles. Under her leadership, Alabama has finished in the "Top 10" for the past 20 years and produced more than 100 All-American honors. Her team members excel in the classroom as well as the gym. With a team GPA of 3.5, the Tide leads the league in Academic All-SEC selections and the nation in NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship Winners. In 1986, 1988, 1991 and 2002 she was named National Coach of the Year.
